Sororities and fraternities have played an important role for undergraduate students at Washington University in St. Louis since 1874.

Around 1,000 students are members of a sorority or fraternity, making up approximately 14 percent of the undergraduate student population. We currently have 29 recognized chapters: 1 National Association of Latino Fraternal Organization chapter (NALFO), 12 Interfraternity Council (IFC) chapters, 9 National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) chapters, and 7 Women’s Panhellenic Association (WPA) chapters.

VALUES

Well-Being
The active pursuit of emotional, mental and physical wellness

Responsibility
The ownership of the sorority or fraternity membership experience in all its facets

Belonging
Sisterhood or brotherhood on the basis of shared values, ritual and tradition, and experiences.

Self-Governance
The ability to independently exercise all of the necessary functions of accountability

Social Justice
Comprehensive understanding of power, privilege, and oppression, with a commitment to action

Personal Growth
The ongoing development of individual members rooted in the cultivation of skills
